

PGA Career Services - Need to Knows

I hope this finds you doing well and in good health. As we transition into everything opening back up in some form or another, I want to wish you all the best as you continue to work your way through all of the new rules and regulations that we seem to receive on a daily basis. Please know that I am working diligently to stay on top of everything going on from a local level with policies and procedures to open responsibly and safely to monitoring potential fiscal assistance that may be coming down from the Federal level. In that vein there are few areas that I wanted to highlight below some about the Covid-19 situation and others having to do with our department and items from the PGA HQ. Please see the information below and do not hesitate to reach out to me with any questions on these items or any others.

Navigate the new normal with the aid of PGA Career Services

Improving performance, developing strategies, and creating value for PGA members, industry professionals, and employers are at the core of the Section and Career Services initiatives. We take seriously any opportunity to assist you in navigating towards your goals and long-term success. In accordance with the recommendations in the Back2Golf guidelines and playbook, we are happy to help guide you into the future and solve current challenges. The time to plan your future success is right now! Let us help you identify what you need to do to get on the right track, build strong dynamic teams, and grow both your career and revenue.

Changes to CareerLinks coming, fill out your job preferences today!

The PGA Career Services team has collaborated with the Technology Department to update the systems used by both employers and job seekers. As part of that update, we are beginning the transition away from the CareerLinks system and will use the Job Board located on PGA.org for the posting of all management-level positions. As part of a multi-step process, we are asking all PGA Members & Associates to provide their "Job Preferences" on pga.org. By answering 5 simple questions relative to your job search preferences, you will begin to see positions that align with your preferences highlighted on your PGA.org home page. We are asking all PGA Members and Associates to complete their profile by clicking here, even if you are not an active job seeker. The Career Services team sees this change as a necessary evolution which creates a member-focused system by allowing all members to see every position posted by the Career Services team. During a short transition time, the Career Services team will continue to use the CareerLinks notification system to make you aware of positions posted on the PGA Job Board but for only a short while longer. If you have any questions or issues setting your Job Preferences, please reach out to me.

Job Preferences

Saving your job preferences will allow us to provide you with a targeted list of positions and career advancement services as you become more active in your search. Over time, this will replace your CareerLinks profile and all jobs will be visible on pga.org. You can update your preferences at any time.

Where are you in your search?

Passively looking for a new position

Your responses are strictly confidential and will only be used by PGA Career Consultants to better serve you

What type of job are you seeking?

- | | |
|--|---|
| ☐ All Others | ☐ Head Golf Professional |
| ☒ Director of Golf | ☒ Facility Management |
| ☒ Association / Administration | ☐ Sales |
| ☐ Golf Operations Support Staff | ☐ Assistant Professional |
| ☐ Teaching & Coaching | |

ADM Certified Coaches will highlight the new focus of PGA.com

PGA.com's new mission is to focus on inspiring players with their golf experiences and to support them on their golf journey, whatever it may be. This will include direct engagement from PGA Professionals with content, tools, and services, supported by a number of PGA and partner digital resources. The first step in publishing your PGA Coaching profile is to complete the ADM certification program highlighted on PGA.coach. Click here to learn how you can earn your ADM certificate.

Again I wish you all the best as you work your way through this challenging and ever changing time. I am here to help so do not hesitate to reach out.

Keith Fisher, PGA Certified Professional
Career Consultant
Serving Kentucky, Northern Ohio, and Southern Ohio PGA Sections
Phone - 937-475-4509
Email- kfisher@pgahq.com